

At last – a resource for children who use sign language with Makaton principles, Australasian style. Produced by Variety Tasmania, it features nursery rhymes presented by some of Australia’s most popular entertainers.

The Makaton Vocabulary Language Program is a signing language specifically designed to help people who may have some difficulties communicating. Signs and symbols are matched to a special selection of words which we use every day. When they are combined with speech it helps people to understand speech more easily, express their own ideas, and improve their communications skills.
